

Supported by joimax®

CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION

Herewith it is confirmed that

DR. ANAS AFIFI

has participated at the

ENDOSCOPIC SPINE SURGERY COURSE INDICATIONS, TECHNOLOGY AND LIMITATIONS

ONLINE WEBINAR

January 27, 2021 | 06:00pm - 07:00 pm

HANDS-ON CAD LAB TRAINING

January 29, 2021 | 08:00am - 04:00pm
ORSI Academy, Melle (Belgium)

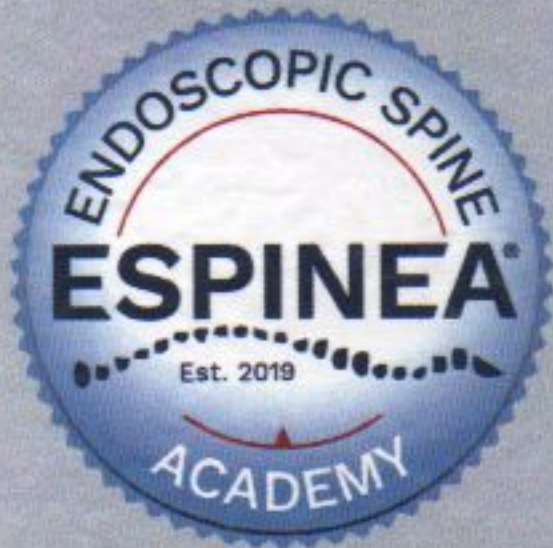

Dr. Vincent Hagel
Course Faculty

Wolfgang Ries
Chairman ESPINEA®

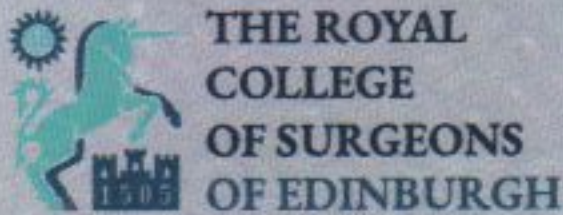

ESPINEA®
Amalienbadstraße 41,
Raumfabrik 41D
76227 Karlsruhe, Germany

Phone +49 (0) 721 255 14-0
Fax +49 (0) 721 255 14-920
info@espinea.org
www.espinea.org

This course is accredited with 9 CPD further education credit points.

Supported by joimax®

THE ROYAL COLLEGE
OF SURGEONS
OF EDINBURGH

CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION

ENDOSCOPIC SPINE SURGERY COURSE INDICATIONS, TECHNOLOGY AND LIMITATIONS

ONLINE WEBINAR

January 27, 2021 | 06:00 pm - 07:00 pm

TOPICS

Transforaminal Endoscopic Spinal Approach

- Anatomy with focus on intervertebral foramen
- Indications & Techniques

Interlaminar Endoscopic Spinal Approach

- Anatomical landmarks
- Indications & Techniques

Dr. Vincent Hagel

HANDS-ON CAD LAB TRAINING

January 29, 2021 | 08:00 am - 04:00 pm
ORSI Academy, Melle (Belgium)

TOPICS

- Transforaminal and interlaminar endoscopic access to the spinal canal for the treatment of lumbar disc herniations and minor foraminal or recess stenosis
Deepening the knowledge on endoscopic bony decompression
- Application and options of electromagnetic navigation system
- Demonstration of endoscopic facet joint and sacroiliac joint treatment
- Limitations and complications management

Dr. Vincent Hagel

ESPINEA®

Amalienbadstraße 41,
Raumfabrik 41D
76227 Karlsruhe, Germany

Phone +49 (0) 721 255 14-0
Fax +49 (0) 721 255 14-920
info@espinea.org
www.espinea.org